MARC RARDIN—IOWA WESTERN COMM. COLL.

Marc is entering his 10th year as Head Coach at Iowa Western Community College.

In his previous 9 years as Head Coach. Marcs teams have averaged over 43 wins per season. Overall 394 wins and 137 losses. In 2010 Coach Rardin and the Iowa Western team made junior college baseball history by being the 1st Northern District representative to win the World Series and the National Championship.

Marc Rardin has taken the Reiver program to five consecutive junior college world series 2007, 08, 09, 10, 11 and six out of the last seven years with also a 2005 appearance as well.

In his 9 years the Iowa Western baseball program has finished Nationally Ranked 14th or higher on the Polls. While directing his teams to successful seasons, Coach Rardin has received personal accolades as well:

- National Coach of the Year voted by the ABCA
- Northern District Coach of the Year 6 times
- Louisville Slugger Coach of the Year 7 times
- Diamond Sports Coach of the Year 7 times

Coach Rardin has been an assistant coach on 2 National Selected USA Junior College teams. Playing overseas versus international opponents such as Cuba, Canada, Japan, Taipei, Netherlands, Australia and China.

He has also been selected to be the Head Coach for this next summer's NJCAA National Select Team.
